Team Jack Awards $1,098,000 in Research Grants to Three National Award Recipients

The Team Jack Foundation is excited to declare its commitment to grant funding for three new national research grants. Each initiative holds the potential for progress in novel treatment protocols designed to benefit children battling brain cancer. Projects are subjected to evaluation by a national scientific review board. Total, the Foundation will commit approximately $1,098,000 to national research for 2024.

Medulloblastoma Research
University of British Columbia | $290,000

Deciphering eEF2K biological functions for therapeutic targeting of pediatric medulloblastoma. The tumor microenvironment (TME) imparts potentially lethal stresses on childhood cancer cells, including oxidative stress, hypoxia, and nutrient deprivation (ND). Tumor cells must acutely adapt to these stresses to survive, potentially leading to emergence of aggressive clones with metastatic capacity.

Dr. Poul Sorensen, University of British Columbia

Medulloblastoma Research
Stanford Medicine | $628,730

Advancing the use of CAR T cells targeting GPC2 for the treatment of children and young adults with recurrent/ refractory medulloblastoma to phase I clinical trials using two independent approaches.

Dr. Sabine Heitzeneder-Stanford Medicine

Pediatric High-Grade Glioma Research
Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago | $179,497

The Phase I/II trial will study pimasertib and DAY101, a novel, brain penetrant type II RAF inhibitor, in children and young adults with newly diagnosed high-grade gliomas with specific pathogenic alterations that lead to activation of the mitogen activated protein kinase (MAPK) pathway.

2023 IN REVIEW

As we bid farewell to another remarkable year, we are excited to share with you the incredible journey we've had at Team Jack Foundation. Your unwavering support and commitment have played a pivotal role in making 2023 a year of positive progress, allowing us to raise over $1,700,000 for childhood brain cancer research.

1. Empowering Advancement Through Research Throughout the year, we remained steadfast in our mission to fund impactful research for childhood brain cancer. Thanks to your generosity, in 2023, we committed to two new national research projects: 1.) Dana-Farber Cancer Institute ($240,000) for pediatric low-grade glioma research, and 2.) Columbia University ($250,000) for pediatric high-grade glioma research. We also committed to three new projects at UNMC and Children's Hospital & Medical Center as part of our Power 5 Childhood Brain Tumor Program: 1.) Kishor Bhakat, PhD ($150,000) for medulloblastoma research, 2.) Nagendra Chaturvedi, PhD ($150,000) for medulloblastoma research, and 3.) Sidharth Mahapatra, MD, PhD ($481,143) for medulloblastoma research. We committed to $1,281,143 in pediatric brain cancer research in 2023. From targeted therapies to tumor banking research, your contributions have truly transformed lives.

2. Nurturing Connections and Community Engagement In 2023, we prioritized fostering meaningful connections within our community. Through our Omaha Advisory Committee, we brought people together, creating a sense of belonging and shared purpose. The support and enthusiasm from each member of our community have been the driving force behind our success.

3. Adapting and Thriving in Challenging Times This year presented its own set of challenges, but together, we faced them head-on. Whether it was selling tables for the gala, securing golfers for our Golf Classic, or getting Radiothon sponsors, your resilience and commitment never wavered. We successfully strategized and overcame obstacles to continue our mission.

4. Gratitude for Our Supporters and Volunteers We extend our deepest gratitude to every supporter, volunteer, and partner who dedicated their time, skills, and resources to our cause. Your selflessness and passion have been instrumental in our achievements, and we look forward to continuing this journey together.

5. Looking Ahead: As we step into the new year, our commitment to fighting childhood brain cancer remains stronger than ever. We have exciting plans for 2024, and we invite you to join us in making an even greater impact in the coming months.

Thank you for being an integral part of our journey. Your belief in our mission has fueled our success, and we are excited to embark on another year of creating positive change, one step at a time.

TEAM JACK FOUNDATION GALA

Saturday, February 24, 2024 | The Lincoln Marriott Cornhusker Hotel

PRESENTED BY: Fat Brain Toys

SATURDAY • FEBRUARY 24TH • 2024

11th Annual Team Jack Gala Presented by Fat Brain Toys to Feature NFL Hall of Famer Bryant Young

Team Jack Foundation will hold its 11th annual Gala presented by Fat Brain Toys on Saturday, February 24, 2024. We will again host our guests at The Lincoln Marriott Cornhusker Hotel in downtown Lincoln, NE for an evening filled with fellowship, lively bidding, and inspirational stories from Team Jack families. We are pleased to announce that Pro Football Hall of Famer, Bryant Young, will be our keynote speaker. Bryant Young spent all fourteen years of his professional career with the San Fransisco 49ers. He was a Super Bowl champion, Comeback Player of the Year, Rookie of the Year, and four-time Pro-Bowl selection, and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2022. He was a dominant force on the defensive line for Notre Dame and for the San Francisco 49ers and has been directly affected by childhood brain cancer. Bryant's son, Colby, was diagnosed with brain cancer in 2014 when he was in eighth grade. He fought bravely for two years before passing away from the disease. We look forward to hearing his message and would love to have you join us for this impactful evening!

Ways You Can Help With the Gala:

Team Jack Foundation 11th Annual Radiothon presented by The Home Agency Raises Nearly $177,000

THE HOME AGENCY

On Thursday, September 28, 2023, the Team Jack Foundation hosted their 11th Annual Radiothon presented by The Home Agency, live from Elwood, NE, raising approximately $177,000 for childhood brain cancer research. Aired on Nebraska radio stations, distributed by the Huskers Radio Network, and streamed live online, donors poured their support on Team Jack, raising vital funds for the cause! The success of this event can largely be attributed to the courageous families that shared their journeys. These families have lived through the horrific diagnosis and bravely shared their stories to help raise research funds and awareness to help kids diagnosed in the future. Some highlights from the day:

- There was great support from hourly matching sponsors: BHA Real Estate, Applied Connective Technologies, Edward Jones, Sandhills Global, Werner Enterprises, the Eckerd family and the David Spence Cancer Foundation in memory of Liza Burke!
- Drew Wetovich was on-site, on behalf of the Cozad Chapter of Ducks Unlimited, and presented Team Jack with a $5,000 check!
- It was an honor to have Jessica, brain tumor fighter, and her mother, Lynette, as well as Miki and Craig, mother and father of the late Bella, brain tumor fighter, on-site.
- On-site donors were treated to a free lunch compliments of Steakmaster in Elwood.
- Local Elwood businesses, daycares and schools raised nearly $1,300 collecting change.

"Another Radiothon, another success! We are so proud to be the presenting sponsor of such an important event. Team Jack's work to fund innovative research for childhood brain cancer is the key to change. At The Home Agency, we are proud that our community and surrounding area, families and friends have joined in to support the Radiothon by donating, volunteering and making sure the message is clear: we need to put the kids of Nebraska first," said Jim Baldonado, President of The Home Agency.

In conjunction with our 11th Annual Team Jack Radiothon presented by The Home Agency, our philanthropic partner in Omaha, Borsheims, hosted a Team Jack Donate Day at their Regency location. KAT 103.7 broadcast live with Gina Melton hosting a show from 11:30 am – 1:30 pm. Muchachos food truck served lunch, with a portion of the proceeds returned to Team Jack Foundation.

Volunteers from the Team Jack Omaha Advisory Committee collected donations both near the food truck and at the live broadcasting area. Borsheims donated a Shinola watch to a donor who came in store and made a gift to Team Jack. Vickii Reikofski from Tilden, NE was the winner. This was a great collaborative effort, and no doubt helped spread awareness for Team Jack in Omaha.

Check presentation from The Home Agency & Jim & Sharri Baldonado family.

Fighting childhood brain cancer is a team effort, so the outstanding support from these local communities is extremely important to continue to make progress for kids with brain cancer!

"The 11th Annual Radiothon presented by The Home Agency was an incredible day in the fight against childhood brain cancer. We are especially thankful for our presenting sponsor, The Home Agency, and Jim and Sharri Baldonado and their family, as well as everyone who donated, bought a t-shirt, purchased a raffle ticket, and made an effort to support this event and Team Jack in any way. Your contribution played a crucial role in the success of our mission and allowed us to raise approximately $177,000 and counting in just one day. This was a huge win for Team Jack and our mission and will have a direct impact on kids fighting this horrible disease."
-Kylie Dockter, Executive Director of the Team Jack Foundation.

SPONSOR HIGHLIGHT

Hurrdat, based in Omaha, is a one-of-a-kind media, marketing and entertainment company that provides a wide array of services under one roof. They specialize in digital media production with an in-house podcast network and high-quality podcast production services. In 2022, Team Jack reached out to Hurrdat to hopefully partner on the annual radiothon. Without hesitation, Senior Vice President, Chris Gorman, personally replied and was eager to help. But, instead of a one-time event partnership, he proposed a year-round partnership to help Team Jack spread awareness for their cause.

Q & A WITH CHRIS GORMAN, SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF HURRDAT:

Q: What motivated you to become a supporter of Team Jack and how has your involvement evolved over time?

Chris: Ever since "The Run" I've been a supporter of Team Jack. Seeing that spectacle and how the country reacted to this moment was awe-inspiring. I felt extremely proud of how our community wrapped their arms around both Jack and the mission of the foundation. When I was asked to be a part of the Omaha Advisory Board, I couldn't say yes fast enough.

Q: Can you share a specific moment or experience that stands out to you as particularly impactful in your journey as a supporter?

Chris: I don't think I was prepared for how emotional the Gala was going to be in 2023. I've been to dozens of events like this, but this one felt so charged with goodness and purpose; I don't remember feeling like this at another event. Specifically, I remember the story of Bella. Her bravery and maturity to speak about her journey and prognosis was incredible. When I heard of her passing, I was washed over with incredible sadness and a stark reminder of our mission.

Q: How do you stay engaged with Team Jack and what strategies do you use to encourage others to join and support them as well?

Chris: Being on the Omaha Advisory Board has been a great honor. I can't wait to find more ways to get involved. I'm very fortunate to work for Hurrdat who has a massive reach for sports fans. I've loved helping Team Jack find media opportunities to get the word out through our channels.

Q: As a long-time supporter, what changes or developments have you witnessed within the organization, and how do you feel about its growth and impact?

Chris Gorman

Chris: I can't believe it's been 10 years since The Run. I've seen the Foundation grow immensely from that moment to what it is today. It's really cool to see the staying power of how Team Jack continues to innovate and push the boundaries of what support can really look like.

Q: Are there any upcoming initiatives or projects that you are particularly excited about?

Chris: We're working on a couple projects with Team Jack that we can't talk about yet, but we know fans will be really excited about what we're working on.

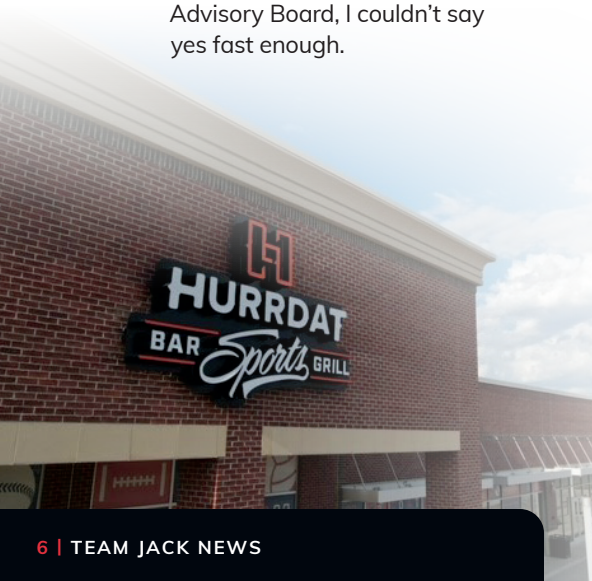

Q: Can you provide a little insight into Hurrdat's business and also the name changes from Hail Varsity?

Chris: Hail Varsity is still around and continues to be the Voice of Husker Nation. We updated the name of the sports bar from Hail Varsity Club to Hurrdat Sports Bar & Grill, reflecting the mission of Hurrdat Sports; to provide an energetic environment that caters to ALL local sports fans who passionately follow their high school, college, and professional teams.

A special thank you to Chris Gorman and his team at Hurrdat for their ongoing support. Their commitment to aiding Team Jack in raising awareness for this dreadful disease is unparalleled.

Check it out! If you haven't heard, Hurrdat Sports Bar and Grill has opened a second location in Gretna! Hurrdat Sports Bar & Grill is a unique sports bar, restaurant, and entertainment experience created by Hurrdat and Hurrdat Sports. They've created an energetic environment where fans can come together to share their passion for sports over a bite and a beer.

Thank you, Hurrdat, for doing your part in the fight against childhood brain cancer!

Day One BIOPHARMACEUTICALS

News Update on Tovorafenib

Day One announced that the U.S., Food and Drug Administration (FDA) accepted the New Drug Application (NDA) for tovorafenib as a monotherapy in relapsed or progressive pediatric low-grade glioma (pLGG). The NDA is based on results from the pivotal Phase 2 trial (FIREFLY-1) evaluating tovorafenib as a once-weekly monotherapy in patients aged 6 months to 25 years with relapsed or progressive pLGG.

FDA acceptance of the NDA means that the Agency will now review the application for potential approval of tovorafenib for sale and marketing in U.S. It is important to note that NDA acceptance does not mean that tovorafenib is or will be approved by the FDA.

Additionally, with Day One's NDA, the FDA has granted priority review and assigned a Prescription Drug User Fee Act (PDUFA) target action date of April 30, 2024. This PDUFA date is the date by which the FDA will make a decision on whether or not tovorafenib will be approved for sale and marketing in the U.S.

In 2015, the Team Jack Foundation committed $300,000 to The Children's Hospital Los Angeles/Dana-Farber Cancer Institute for this study in Phase I of development. In 2017, Team Jack made an additional investment of $500,000 for this drug to be further investigated.

Research in the laboratory showed it had activity against cancer cells. This drug belongs to a group of drugs called type II BRAF inhibitors. BRAF abnormalities are found in cancer cells. There are no type II BRAF inhibitors approved by the FDA for humans at the time of this study's start. In 2020, Day One Biopharmaceuticals acquired the rights to develop and commercialize DAY101 worldwide. In January 2023, Day One announced topline data from FIREFLY-1 trial which demonstrated meaningful responses. This new progress shows great promise for the future of tovorafenib.

Omaha Advisory Committee Brings Insight to Team Jack

This year, Team Jack re-established an Omaha Advisory Committee to provide insight into our work, and help us expand our footprint in the Omaha market. The committee includes community volunteers, corporate leaders and brain cancer families. We meet quarterly and discuss Team Jack's work, and ways to increase awareness about this disease and especially the program at UNMC. The members will serve one-year terms and we are humbled by their commitment to Team Jack. Our current members are: Andy Brabec, Mike and Jess Cogswell, Dee Felici, Brent and Kathryn Gehring, Chris Gorman, Justin Herring, Ken Maxwell, Kyle Miles, Madelyn Mogensen, Paul Penke, Chris Rhoads, Robin Ruhl, Nancy Schultz, and Shannon Sorensen.

NASCAR FOUNDATION GRANT

The NASCAR Foundation opened a year-end grant opportunity and extended an invitation for Team Jack Foundation to apply. We applied for additional funding for Dr. Sidharth Mahapatra's medulloblastoma work. He is working to develop a tumor bank at UNMC and Team Jack is partnering in helping make this a reality. On November 9, we were awarded $10,000 from The NASCAR Foundation! Team Jack's relationship with NASCAR began in 2016 when our co-founder Andy Hofffman received The NASCAR Foundation's sixth annual Betty Jane France Humanitarian Award presented by Nationwide. Team Jack received a $100,000 donation from The NASCAR Foundation. Hoffman won the award following an online fan vote on NASCAR.com.

Miles for Team Jack was Another Success!

The 4th Annual Miles for Team Jack Virtual Challenge was a great success, raising $17,000! Over 300 registered participants from 15 states walked or ran in their communities for Team Jack throughout September! A special thank you to Fleet Feet for organizing the challenge, Applied Connective Technologies for sponsoring the prizes, and CiShirts and Art F/X for donating the t-shirts. On Wednesday, November 15, Kylie Dockter and Shari Gilg from the Team Jack Foundation accepted a check from Lori Borer, owner of Fleet Feet Lincoln and Omaha.

Each week of the challenge, there was a social media contest that the participants were encouraged to complete to be entered for prizes. The challenges ranged from Jog with your Dog to Go Big Red on your Run! In addition, prizes were awarded to the top individual fundraiser, top team fundraiser, top commenter/poster on social media, and more. Congratulations to all the prize winners! All participants received a Miles for Team Jack Medal and an event t-shirt.

Proceeds from Miles for Team Jack support Team Jack's mission to fund impactful childhood brain cancer research. The combined four-year total raised from Miles for Team Jack is nearly $77,000!

Broken Chair Trophy Game is More Than a Game

Governor Jim Pillen holding the Broken Chair Trophy

This year's edition of The Broken Chair trophy was really something. Nebraska fans were in high anticipation of the start of the Matt Rhule era of Nebraska Football. The Team Jack staff was feeling confident, perhaps overly confident, that the Huskers would defeat the Gophers and this would be the year that Nebraska would get to host the Broken Chair Trophy! While we had won the fundraising piece of the challenge each of the past five years, the last time Nebraska had beaten Minnesota was in 2018. We were hungry to bring the trophy back home and were making mental notes about where we would display it throughout the year! Then we did....ALMOST... win the game and host the trophy!

Unfortunately, the ball bounced the wrong direction, and Minnesota came out on top. We were crushed. But only for a minute as we don't have to look very hard to be reminded of the fundraising purpose of the Foundation and the Broken Chair Trophy. Kids are dying of brain cancer, and two-thirds of survivors are left with lifelong side effects from the harsh treatments. Kinder, more effective treatments are so desperately needed.

This is why this Broken Chair fundraiser is so awesome. It combines Husker fans' never-ending enthusiasm for their team with a very important purpose: to improve the lives of children with brain cancer. And as always, our fans did not disappoint raising $18,625. While the Huskers did not find victory against Minnesota, the fans did! Minnesota raised just shy of $18,000 for Team One Four, so we did come away with one victory! What's even better, or should we say "bettor," is that Team Jack picked up an additional $5,000 donation from BettorEdge. This was the prize for winning a voting contest sponsored by BettorEdge! The highest-voted foundation would receive $5,000 toward their Broken Chair Trophy total while the second-place foundation received $1,000. It was a $4,000 swing for Team Jack!

So in the end, while our beloved Cornhuskers couldn't quite seal their end of the deal, kids with brain cancer wound up with the best of the best anyway! Since the fundraising began for the Broken Chair Trophy, over $160,000 has been raised for the two "charities"! That's something we can all be proud of!

Special shoutout to all who donated, shared, and retweeted for Team Jack! We are truly grateful and do believe that we have the best fans in all of college football.

TEAM JACK FOUNDATION

50 for $100K Challenge

Join us on our quest to raise an additional $100K by the February 2024 Team Jack Gala Presented by Fat Brain Toys!

We aim to do this by finding a new donor from each of the 50 states in America to give $2,000 to Team Jack. One person can give the total amount or multiple can give toward the goal. Check the progress on our website. We've raised $29,000 to date and have checked off 13 states, but we need your help to reach this goal!

Think hard about who you know in other states, and either ask them to contribute or introduce you to companies or individuals that have the means to contribute!

When it's all said and done, this will be an additional $100,000 to put toward childhood brain cancer research. There are kids dying from brain cancer because they are out of treatment options, and it's up to us to make an impact.
